THE INTENT OF THE COLORADO COMMUNITY REVITALIZATION PROGRAM is to provide grant funding to finance various projects across the state that are intended to create or revitalize mixed-use commercial centers. This grant program will support creative projects that combine creative industry commercial spaces, performance space, community gathering spaces, child care centers, retail and workforce housing partnerships for the purpose of economic recovery and diversification by supporting creative sector entrepreneurs, artisans and community non-profit organizations.

The effort is led by the Colorado Office of Economic Development’s Colorado Creative Industries Division (OEDIT—CCI) in collaboration with the Colorado Department of Local Affairs Division of Local Government (DOLA—DLG). This funding initiative was enacted in Senate Bill 21-252.

Highly competitive applications will include mixed-use projects with elements of workforce housing, live/work space for creative sector workers and their families, non-residential space for community creative uses, and can include creative industry commercial and retail space. Projects can also include enterprises and organizations that serve community needs such as performance space, child care, health and wellness, and space for non-profit groups. Grants will be provided for gap funding to projects in creative districts, historic districts, main streets and commercial centers in Colorado in 2021 and 2022. Each project must demonstrate a high level of community engagement in response to community needs, including strong evidence of being able to attract additional sources of funding and broad support from local governments and surrounding communities or neighborhoods. Projects shall also demonstrate how they will stimulate economic recovery and economic diversification and an ability to commence work within a reasonable amount of time.

A SUCCESSFUL PROJECT should serve as a catalyst for a community’s commercial center and should be indicative of the jurisdiction’s goals, strategies and strategic plans for development. Projects could incorporate workforce housing and a mix of creative industry commercial and/or community uses that would diversify or strengthen the local economy and increase the availability of affordable space in the commercial core of the community, with an emphasis on creative industries and community services increasing the livability, daily activity and economic vitality of the neighborhood. The project, through new construction or renovation of existing buildings, can be transformative, celebrate the artistic or historic character of the community, provide infill development and/or elimination of blight and increase property values. A successful project should be a demonstration of community values and a positive public investment in local community revitalization through the creative industries. Projects should reflect a combination of multiple sources of funding such as local resources, federal or state funding, loans, mortgages, or philanthropy. The Community Revitalization grant funding is intended to fill the gap bringing a project across the finish line.
